Dear Friends from Mali: I'm not buying any chocolate from the companies that bought it from Mali. I hope they go out of business! I hope you're going well.

We pray that soon ALL of the children will be free from suffering work on cocoa farms in Cote d'Ivoire.

Dear Friends from Mali:

I'm very sorry you had to do that and I will never ~~forget~~ Bug that chocolate.
It is horrible what they did and I'm glad you're in America.

We pray that soon ALL of the children will be free from suffering work
on cocoa farms in Cote d'Ivoire.

Dear Friends from Mali: Hope your feeling better, It must have been hard to get a way. I hope that Nestle' and the other companies get sued. I won't try to buy any other ~~chocolate~~ chocolate that you had to make so the bad companies might go out of business and they can't force any one else to work for them.

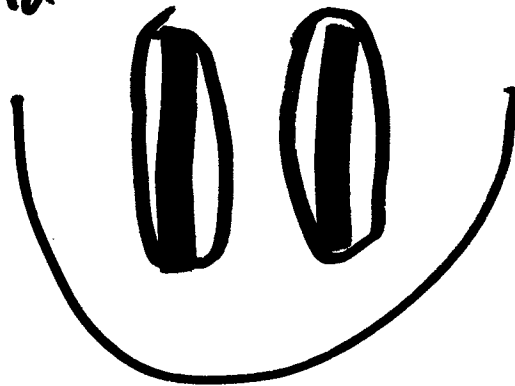

We pray that soon ALL of the children will be free from suffering work on cocoa farms in Cote d'Ivoire.

Dear Friends from Mali:

I hope that you are o.k. and feel good.
I think that it was a great idea to run away ~~out~~ from your home and run to the U.S. to warn us about what is happening.
Good job and I'm glad you're safe
here. We hope that the other people in Mali will soon be safe (which they probably will be). I'll be thinking of you and hoping you are soon safe.

We pray that soon ALL of the children will be free from suffering work
on cocoa farms in Cote d'Ivoire.

Dear Friends from Mali: your cool! I hope you have fun. we sent the slavers mean letters so they stop! I'll be rotten for you!

We pray that soon ALL of the children will be free from suffering work
on cocoa farms in Cote d'Ivoire.
